

B. Our LIFESTYLE Expresses the Gospel.

(Suggested teaching time: 20 minutes)

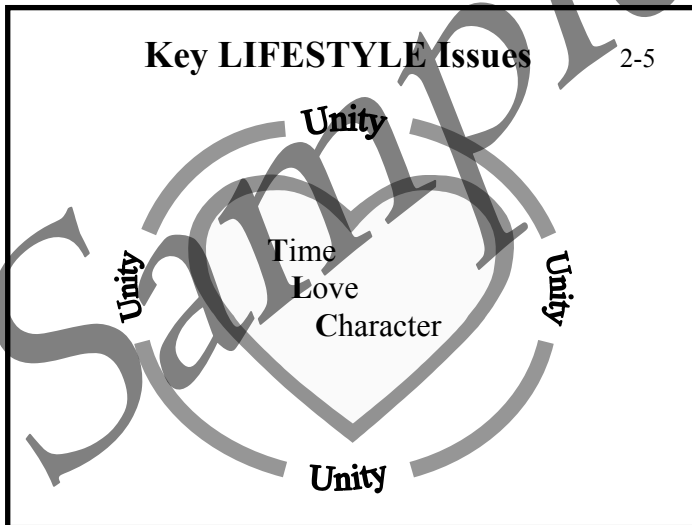

The next dimension of the three-dimensional Gospel is the LIFESTYLE of the Christian (the Gospel messenger).

← Show slide 2-4.

The next aspect of the Gospel to be considered is the LIFESTYLE of the messenger (us).

We will see four ways our LIFESTYLE expresses the Gospel.

← Show slide 2-5.

Introduce the four key LIFESTYLE areas.

Discuss the problem of how to have enough time for people in our increasingly task oriented world.

1. Our TIME expresses the Gospel.

- We must be available to spend time with lost people if we hope to lead them to Christ (Jn 1:14).
- As we spend time together, we build and earn trust, which eventually will allow ministry opportunities.
- Jesus used incarnational ministry as His model. He dwelled among the lost, identified with them, and spent time with those who needed the Gospel (Heb 1:1, Mt 1:23).
- The best way to find time for evangelistic outreach is to schedule it on your calendar. Set the appointment and then let the Lord show you with whom to spend the time.
